

The JET! Trilogy

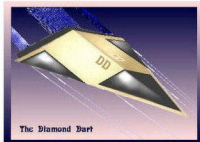

Earth to Earth

Eskhatos

Synopsis

By contrast Earth to Earth begins with Sirk, Cita, and his friends settling on Urf (as the Men call it) to start over, but this time Sirk intends to make Earth a better planet on which to live. Setting up home in the village with the Men they start out on a mission to rebuild their lives, and also improve those of the Men. Having found a replicator in the museum the ever resourceful Professor Patenil adapts it to reproduce dome shaped housing from the museum for everyone in a new land. Thrilled to find she is the cause of a happy occasion, nine months later Cita gives birth to a baby girl. However, after six weeks tragedy strikes, when a mysterious disease takes the infants life away in their new land, and distraut beyond belief Cita thinks she will never recover, but there is worse to come. After their return to Men's village the deadly disease that killed his baby now threatens to envelope them, but Sirk's quick thinking saves them from certain death. Matters then take a turn for the better, and settling down to everyday life the community begins to thrive and grow. After which Sirk realises there is one regret he must remedy!

Phil Phoenix.

Unless we act now war will die with the planet!

